ELECTRIC TECHNOLOGY

Which electric engines is right for you?

MILD HYBRID (MHEV)

A small internal combustion engine helps improve efficiency versus a conventional internal combustion engine.

Mild Hybrid vehicles have two sources of power that work together – a conventional engine and a battery-driven electric motor. The electric motor does not power the car. It simply assists it. Kuga mHEV has an auxiliary electric motor and a 48v battery that further improve fuel economy up to 56.5 mpg and lower CO2. They also assist with acceleration transferring back the energy.

HYBRID (FHEV)

Hybrid vehicles have two sources of power.

They can automatically switch between conventional mode, pure electric mode (for short distances) or use both to power the vehicle as needed.

Kuga FHEV has a battery capacity of 1.1kWh which allows short term electric propulsion, a great combination between power and fuel efficiency, whilst reducing the CO2 footprint compared to a conventional engine.

PLUG-IN HYBRID (PHEV)

Plug in. Charge up. Improves Efficiency versus a mild hybrid or hybrid engine.

Plug-in Hybrids have the two sources of power like a hybrid, but with a larger high voltage battery, enabling you to drive longer distances on all-electric power.

Kuga PHEV has a battery size of 14.4 kWh which gives a maximum EV range of 39 miles. This results in a combined average fuel economy up to 282.5 mpg and only 23 g/km CO2.

Charging the battery

MILD HYBRID AND HYBRID

There's no need to plug in your vehicle for charging. Hybrid vehicles are able to recharge the battery in two ways:

- 1) Regenerative braking
- 2) Conventional engine

The conventional engine powers the generator which transforms mechanical energy into electrical energy to charge the battery.

All four electric vehicle types use regenerative braking to charge the battery. While braking, the motor is still spinning even though the car is trying to slow down.

Regenerative braking captures this typically wasted energy to create electricity, which charges the battery.

PLUG-IN HYBRID

The larger battery in Plug-in Hybrids can be plugged-in to charge. Once the battery is depleted, the vehicle behaves like a conventional hybrid with the engine running when required.

Electric range

* Ranges are estimates only and depend on the vehicle, road conditions and driving behaviour.

230V Wall outlet

Plug-in Hybrids and All-Electric vehicles can be charged on a 230V outlet (16A), which is the standard electrical socket in most UK households. This takes approximately 6 hours to charge the battery.

Wall box

For faster charging at home you can install a compatible wall box, which is capable of charging your vehicle in approximately 3.5 hours.

PHEV Home Wall box

Fully installed EV Box 400V (32A) is available as an accessory.

FUEL CONSUMPTION

The fuel consumption and CO2 emission figures shown in the table are derived from the Worldwide Harmonised Light Vehicle Test Procedure (WLTP). These figures may not reflect real life driving results, which will depend upon a number of factors including the accessories fitted, variations in weather, driving styles and vehicle load. The figures shown are for comparability purposes; only compare fuel consumption and CO2 figures with other vehicles tested to the same technical procedures.

You can also use Ford's online configurator to build and customise a new Ford vehicle: www.ford.co.uk/configurator. The configurator provides information about your configured vehicle's fuel consumption and CO2 emissions (these are also WLTP test figures).

Notes

[∅]Ford test figures.

^{∅∅} The declared Fuel/Energy Consumptions, CO2-Emissions and Electric range are determined according to the technical requirements and specifications of the European Regulations (EC) 715/2007 and (EU) 2017/1151 as last amended. Light Duty Vehicles type-approved using the World Harmonised Light Vehicle Test Procedure (WLTP) have Fuel/Energy Consumptions and CO2-Emission information for both New European Drive Cycle (NEDC) and WLTP. WLTP is a new, more realistic test procedure for measuring fuel consumption and CO2 emissions and fully replaced the NEDC by end of the year 2020. The applied standard test procedure enables comparison between different vehicle types and different manufacturers. In addition to the fuel efficiency of a car, driving behaviour as well as other non-technical factors play a role in determining a car's fuel/energy consumption, CO2 emissions and electric range. CO2 is the main greenhouse gas responsible for global warming. A guide on fuel economy and CO2 emissions which contain data for all new passenger car models is available at any point of sale free of charge or can be downloaded under <https://carfueldata.vehicle-certification-agency.gov.uk/>.

The delivery charge is included in the Basic Recommended Retail Price and is made on all models for delivery to the Dealer's premises. Where delivery is not made to the customer at the Dealer's premises a further charge may be made by the Dealer.

The Vehicle Excise Duty (VED) charged on new cars is based on their engine's CO₂ emissions* (expressed in grams per kilometre (g/km)). All CO₂ emissions figures in g/km are derived from the Worldwide Harmonised Light Vehicle Test Procedure (WLTP). These figures may not reflect real life driving results, which will depend upon a number of factors including the accessories fitted, variations in weather, driving styles and vehicle load.'

You can also use Ford's online configurator to build and customise a new Ford vehicle: www.ford.co.uk/configurator. The configurator provides information about your configured vehicle's fuel consumption and CO₂ emissions (these are also WLTP test figures).

The chart above shows the Bands and the VED which will be levied (for vehicles registered from 1st April 2022 onwards).

If a car's list price is over £40,000 (including VAT and factory fitted options) at first registration, the customer will pay an additional VED charge (currently £355) for five years after the end of the first registration (in addition to the standard VED charge per year, currently £165 for petrol / diesel car or £155 for an alternative fuel car.
